ABOUT BIOETHANOL

Bioethanol is considered a renewable energy source, 100% green, which respects the environment and does not contribute to global warming.

Bioethanol or simply "ethanol", as fuel for the operation of fireplaces, is produced through the fermentation of products of vegetal origin like sugar cane, potatoes, sugar beet and cereals, among others. It is considered a renewable energy source, 100% green, which respects the environment and does not contribute to global warming. Hence the name "bio" ethanol.

Bioethanol fireplaces are highly efficient and require no chimney or pipes. Most of heat generated by the combustion of bioethanol stays on the room.
